

5th International solar fuels conference

2-5 September 2025 | Newcastle, UK

Sponsorship menu

A highlight for the Solar Fuels community, this internationally renowned conference will bring together over 500 solar fuel researchers to solve issues surrounding climate change and energy supply. We are offering the following opportunities to promote your products to delegates and position your organisation as a valued partner in the industry.

As a sponsor you will qualify exclusively to make use of a Solar Flash Talks which will take place during the conference. Each talk will last five minutes and will be listed in the programme.

Solar Flash Talks will be automatically included in the first four on-site sponsorship and exhibitor options as they are reserved.

A separate, linked, event for early-career researchers will be held from 1-2 September. Please contact us for details of sponsorship opportunities.
